PROFILE SUMMARY

BCA Graduate and Software Engineer with hands-on experience in React.js, Next.js, Node.js, REST APIs, and Git-based collaboration. Built full-stack MERN applications with authentication, API integration, and performance optimization. Passionate about cloud-native software development, distributed systems, automation, and AI-assisted engineering, with a strong willingness to learn DevOps technologies.

WORK EXPERIENCE

OpsMonsters Software Consultants | October 2025 – November 2025

Associate System Engineer Trainee

- Developed and enhanced production features using React.js, Next.js, and REST APIs in collaboration with backend services.
- Troubleshot and resolved software defects, improving application reliability, responsiveness, and performance.
- Contributed to the TraderLogs module by integrating REST APIs and building reusable, maintainable components.
- Collaborated in Agile development using Git workflows, including branching, code reviews, and merge conflict resolution.
- Resolved 50+ production UI and functional issues, improving software quality and user experience.

PROJECTS

Habit Tracker App – Next.js, Express.js, Node.js, MongoDB

Live Demo: https://habit-tracker-client-bay.vercel.app

- Built a scalable full-stack habit tracking application using Next.js, Node.js, Express.js, and MongoDB with JWT & Google OAuth authentication and modular MVC architecture.
- Developed secure RESTful APIs with authentication middleware, schema validation, optimized MongoDB queries, and compound indexing.
- Improved application performance through API caching, centralized error handling, lazy loading, and optimized state management.
- Designed and implemented analytics features with weekly, monthly, yearly, and all-time insights using reusable, responsive components.
- Applied performance optimizations including useMemo, Suspense, and efficient date handling to enhance scalability and user experience.

Shell-to-Node Server Generator – Shell Script + Node.js

- CLI tool to auto-generate Node.js server boilerplate with folder structure and dependencies.
- Speeds up project initialization for backend development.

Mini Projects

- Blackjack Game, Calculator, Palindrome Checker, Chrome Extension (Tab Saver) using HTML/CSS/JS.
